REAL ESTATE PROJECT

THE RESULTS

- Increased website traffic by 120% in the first three months.
- Generated over 300 high-quality leads through online inquiries and phone calls.
- Achieved a 15% conversion rate from leads to property viewings.

THE CHALLENGE:

As a relatively new player in the competitive real estate market, our client sought to enhance their online presence and generate leads efficiently within a tight budget. Given their limited brand recognition, establishing trust and credibility was paramount.

OUR SOLUTION:

Astrix undertook a comprehensive digital transformation for our client. We began by revamping their website to be more user-friendly and search engine optimized. This involved creating a mobile-responsive design and optimizing property listings for local search. Simultaneously, we launched a targeted digital marketing campaign, leveraging pay-per-click advertising, email marketing, and content creation.

- Positioned the client as an emerging leader in the telehealth sector, attracting interest from industry leaders.

THE CHALLENGE:

Our client, a healthcare technology start-up, was pioneering a cutting-edge telehealth solution. However, they faced significant regulatory hurdles and needed a speedy proof of concept to attract investors. Given their limited resources, time was of the essence.

OUR SOLUTION:

Astrix immediately assembled a cross-functional team of experts, including healthcare consultants and developers. We streamlined the development process, prioritizing core functionalities and ensuring compliance with industry regulations. Simultaneously, we crafted a compelling investor pitch deck and identified potential funding sources.

- Enhanced the institution's reputation for innovation and adaptability in the education sector.

THE CHALLENGE:

In response to changing educational needs and a surge in online learning, our client, a mid-sized educational institution, aimed to pivot their traditional curriculum to a digital platform. They sought to deliver engaging and effective online courses while preserving their academic reputation.

OUR SOLUTION:

Astrix conducted an in-depth analysis of the institution's existing curriculum and designed an online learning strategy. We developed a customized Learning Management System (LMS) and created high-quality digital content, including video lectures, interactive quizzes, and discussion forums. To ensure seamless transition, we provided faculty training on effective online teaching methods.
